

Waiting for an appointment? Say thank you with a high-five!

Ask someone in uniform if you can say 'thank you' for everything they do, by high-fiving them.

Why?

High fiving someone in uniform to say thank you:

- ✓ Helps children to learn about people who help us.
- ✓ Develops understanding of the world and others.
- ✓ Strengthens understanding and trust.
- ✓ Makes an experience positive.
- ✓ Offers opportunities to develop conversational skills.

How?

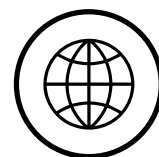

- ✓ Model asking permission to high-five, to say thank you.
- ✓ Crouch down to your child's level.
- ✓ Comment to prompt conversation, for example, I think they are typing notes.

Looking for free activities and events for children from birth to five years?

Scan the QR code to download the free '50 Things To Do Before You're Five' app.

Access activities and events, via the translatable website: cambspboro.50thingstodo.org