We kindly ask that you only order Dual Language books for children currently attending your setting, whose parents speak only limited English and therefore could most benefit from them.

Due to a lack of resources, we are no longer able to supply dual language books for all the children in early years settings who have an additional home language. Thank you for your understanding and for helping us make the most of our limited resources.

If dual language orders exceed our stock, we will let you know if we are unable to supply your requests.

All orders need to be sent by email to bookstart@cambridgeshire.gov.uk.

Thank you.
