

Free ROMLIT Training

Deepening understanding of GRT communities and strengthening inclusive practices

Developing Early Years Literacies through Gypsy, Roma and Traveller heritage

Cambridgeshire Early Years, Childcare, and School Readiness Service are hosting University of East Anglia (UEA)'s ROMLIT team, to offer Early Years practitioners (Childminders, Private, Voluntary and Independent settings and Early Years school staff), this free training opportunity to strengthen your model of inclusion, by developing a deeper understanding of Gypsy, Roma and Traveller culture and heritage, in order to support literacy acquisition of children from a GRT background, in Early Years.

Delivered by UEA's ROMLIT team, the aims of the course will support practitioners to:

- Strengthen understanding of GRT history, culture, heritage
- Reflect on perceptions and expectations
- Develop strategies for engaging communities in literacy learning
- Explore influences on literacy acquisition
- Access culturally appropriate resources
- Reflect upon inclusive practice.
